

EMORY UNIVERSITY
THE ONE HUNDRED SIXTY-EIGHTH COMMENCEMENT
THE THIRTEENTH OF MAY
TWO THOUSAND THIRTEEN

The Alma Mater

---

IN THE HEART OF DEAR OLD EMORY
WHERE THE SUN DOTH SHINE,
THAT IS WHERE OUR HEARTS ARE TURNING
'ROUND OLD EMORY'S SHRINE.

WE WILL EVER SING THY PRAISES,
SONS AND DAUGHTERS TRUE.
HAIL WE NOW OUR ALMA MATER,
HAIL THE GOLD AND BLUE!

THO' THE YEARS AROUND US GATHER,
CROWNED WITH LOVE AND CHEER,
STILL THE MEMORY OF OLD EMORY
GROWS TO US MORE DEAR.

WE WILL EVER SING THY PRAISES,
SONS AND DAUGHTERS TRUE.
HAIL WE NOW OUR ALMA MATER,
HAIL THE GOLD AND BLUE!

PRESENTATION OF THE MARION LUTHER BRITTAIN SERVICE AWARD

---

This award, symbolic of all honors bestowed on students by the university, is an expression of gratitude for service performed without expectation of reward or recognition. The award was established at Emory in 1942 through a bequest from a distinguished Emory alumnus, former President Brittain of the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Katherine Leah Dickerson 13C

KATHERINE DICKERSON, A SENIOR IN EMORY COLLEGE OF ARTS and Sciences, is the 2013 Marion Luther Brittain Award winner. Dickerson is a candidate for a bachelor of arts degree in both neuroscience and behavioral biology, and anthropology and human biology.

As a fully engaged and dedicated servant scholar, Dickerson is a member of the Emory women's varsity basketball and club women's lacrosse teams. She has been a member of the University Athletic Association's all-academic team for three years and has served as service president of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity and missions coordinator for the Wesley Fellowship. Each summer, she travels to Central Appalachia to assist in eradicating substandard housing with the Appalachia Service Project. Dickerson also leads weekly service trips to Refugee Family Services with Volunteer Emory.

Earlier this year, she was awarded the prestigious Bobby Jones Scholarship for study at the University of St Andrews in Scotland where she will pursue a degree in behaviors and neural sciences. Dickerson also was selected to be a member of both the 100 Senior Honorary Class of 2013 and Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society.

PRESENTATION OF THE UNIVERSITY SCHOLAR/TEACHER AWARD

---

Chosen by the university president from nominations by the deans on behalf of the United Methodist Church Board of Higher Education and Ministry.

Leslie Harris

*Winship Distinguished Research Professor in the Humanities
Associate Professor of History and African American Studies*

LESLIE HARRIS, AN INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNIZED EXPERT IN nineteenth-century US and African American history, plays an influential role in the university community's constructive examination of and evolution on issues of race and difference.

With a BA from Columbia University and an MA and PhD from Stanford University, Harris focuses on the pre-Civil War history of African Americans in the United States. Her award-winning book In the Shadow of Slavery: African Americans in New York City, 1626–1863 won critical praise for its novel explorations of slavery in the northeastern United States. She has served on the editorial board of the Journal of American History. Recognizing the value of sharing scholarship beyond the academic community, she consults widely on public history projects such as the 2005–2006 New York Historical Society exhibit Slavery in New York.

Her fresh perspective on history and her interest in public scholarship enrich and enliven the classroom experience of her students. Building on the growing array of digital resources available for scholarship, she develops topical colloquia such as her course The 2005 Hurricane Season, in which students learn to evaluate online information critically, even as they contribute to it. She has helped prepare doctoral students across a range of disciplines, including history, English, women's studies, and religion.

As an engaged university citizen, Harris has led initiatives to examine the effects of slavery and its legacies at Emory. She cofounded and directed the Transforming Community Project, a multiyear program supported by university's Strategic Plan Fund and the Ford Foundation that brought together faculty, staff, and students to address issues and attitudes about racial history. This project created a body of scholarship and art about Emory's historical relationship to race and slavery, and it culminated in the 2011 national conference "Slavery and the University: History and Legacies." Harris has served as chair of the Department of African American Studies and as cochair of the Race and Difference Initiative of Emory's 2005–2015 Strategic Plan.

PRESENTATION OF THE THOMAS JEFFERSON AWARD

Awarded each year to a faculty member or administrative officer for significant service to the university through personal activities, influence, and leadership.

Nadine Kaslow

Professor and Vice Chair in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

*Director, Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in Professional Psychology, Emory University School of Medicine
Chief Psychologist, Grady Health System*

WORKING WITH PASSION AND COMPASSION, NADINE KASLOW embraces the tools of clinical psychology to deliver evidence-based care that empowers people to cope with life's challenges. In an Emory career spanning more than twenty years, she has demonstrated an inspiring commitment to ensuring that patients receive the highest-quality mental health care.

Kaslow has developed an impeccable professional record. She currently serves as president-elect designate of the American Psychological Association (APA), is an APA Fellow, and serves on the APA Board of Directors and the Rosalynn Carter Mental Health Advisory Board. She is the recipient of multiple federal and foundation grants and editor of the Journal of Family Psychology. Author of more than 270 articles, she is a nationally recognized expert in suicide, intimate partner violence, child maltreatment, depression in children and adolescents, posttraumatic stress disorder, and education and training in psychology. She earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania and a PhD from the University of Houston. In 2012 Pepperdine University awarded her an honorary doctorate.

Kaslow's service to the Emory community has been equally extensive. She recently cochaired the Committee on Class and Labor, a panel of faculty, staff, and students that worked for nearly two years to research the impact of class and status on working relationships at Emory. The committee presented its findings and recommendations this year. She also has served as a fellow of the Woodruff Leadership Academy; special assistant to the provost; president of the University Senate; and chair of the Faculty Council, the Honorary Degree Committee, and the President's Commission on the Status of Women.

In addition to her responsibilities as an Emory professor, faculty leader, and student adviser, Kaslow serves as chief psychologist for the Grady Health System, Atlanta's public hospital predominantly staffed by Emory doctors. The Grady Health Foundation presented her with the Inspiring Mentor Award this year, and in 2012 the APA presented her with the Elizabeth Hurlock Beckman Award in recognition of her extraordinary influence on students' futures. With a passion for ballet since childhood, Kaslow continues a regular practice of dance and is the resident psychologist for the Atlanta Ballet Company.

AUTHORIZATION TO CONFER DEGREES

---

The conferring of degrees is authorized in formal session by the Board of Trustees of Emory University on the recommendation of the president and the faculties. At today's ceremony, Chair Ben F. Johnson III 65C symbolically will authorize President Wagner to confer degrees upon the graduates, including the recipients of honorary degrees.

HONORARY DEGREES

MARGUERITE BARANKITSE
*Founder and president of Maison Shalom, Burundi
Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa*

MARGUERITE “MAGGY” BARANKITSE IS DISTINGUISHED FOR HER courageous work during two decades on behalf of victims of violence in the central African country of Burundi.

Emory is honored to recognize Barankitse's inspirational record of peace building and reconciliation in a land scarred by civil war and ethnic strife. In 2011, she shared her story with student interns at The Carter Center, the nongovernmental organization founded by former US President Jimmy Carter, with which Emory works in partnership to advance peace and health in neighborhoods and nations.

Barankitse founded the multifunctional service agency Maison Shalom (House of Peace) in the wake of severe ethnic violence between Tutsis and Hutus in the early 1990s. She began by providing a home for orphaned children who survived the attacks. Maison Shalom's mission has expanded to include education, health programs, vocational training, and reconciliation, as the organization helps heal and support thousands of young people and families affected by war, poverty, and disease.

The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees recognized Barankitse in 2005 with the prestigious Nansen Refugee Award, whose previous recipients include Edward Kennedy and Eleanor Roosevelt. Barankitse used the generous monetary part of the prize to help start a 120-bed hospital. Additional honors include the North-South Prize from the Council of Europe, the Opus Prize, and the World's Children's Prize for the Rights of the Child, as well as honorary degrees.

Ms. Barankitse will be presented by the dean of Candler School of Theology Jan Love.

MICHAEL GRAVES
*Architect and designer
Doctor of Fine Arts, honoris causa*

MICHAEL GRAVES IS RENOWNED FOR REDEFINING THE architect's role in society. His interest in extending the impact of beauty and balanced design, expressed through a combination of classicism and modernism, sparked four decades of influential designs ranging from iconic buildings to everyday objects.

Emory is honored to recognize Graves's cultural contributions, which include the university's Michael C. Carlos Museum on the Quadrangle where commencement is held. Graves's first project on campus, in 1985, involved historic preservation and adaptive reuse of a Henry Hornbostel landmark (the former law building, now Carlos Hall) to provide classrooms and gallery space. It won a National Honor Award from the American Institute of Architects (AIA), and its success led in 1993 to a thirty-five-thousand-square-foot expansion, followed by gallery renovations.

One of a group of modernist architects dubbed the “New York Five,” Graves is founding principal of the firm Michael Graves & Associates. The firm's portfolio includes more than three hundred buildings and more than two thousand products. A distinctive attention to detail and to enhancing the user's experience characterizes his work, from high-end designs of structures to products for Target Stores. In recent years, he has turned the personal experience of becoming paralyzed into professional insight that serves the design needs of the disabled.

Graves is the Robert Schirmer Professor of Architecture, Emeritus, at Princeton University, an AIA Fellow, and a Member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. He has received more than a dozen honorary doctorates in addition to the National Medal of Arts in 1999, the AIA Gold Medal in 2001, and the Topaz Medallion for Excellence in Architectural Education from the AIA and the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture in 2010. He has degrees from the University of Cincinnati and Harvard University, won the Rome Prize, and studied at the American Academy of Rome, where he is now a trustee.

Mr. Graves will be presented by the dean of the James T. Laney School of Graduate Studies Lisa A. Tedesco.

RITA DOVE
*Commonwealth Professor of English, University of Virginia
Doctor of Letters, honoris causa*

FORMER UNITED STATES POET LAUREATE AND PULITZER Prize-winner Rita Dove, a major figure in American and African American literature, is known for her interdisciplinary approach and collaborative ventures with composers, musicians, and other artists.

Emory is honored to welcome Dove's return to campus as the 2013 commencement keynote speaker. She was visiting lecturer for the 2011 series “Entering the World through Language,” which included programs by the Center for Women at Emory and the James Weldon Johnson Institute for Race and Difference. She is cited as a mentor by Emory's Pulitzer Prize-winning Natasha

Trethewey, the Robert W. Woodruff Professor of English and Creative Writing and the current US poet laureate.

Dove is the Commonwealth Professor of English at the University of Virginia. She served as poet laureate of the United States and consultant to the Library of Congress from 1993 to 1995, and as poet laureate of the Commonwealth of Virginia from 2004 to 2006. She has written more than a dozen books and edited two poetry anthologies.

Dove loved poetry and music from a young age, and the honors for her own artistry began early: White House Presidential Scholar, Fulbright Scholar, National Endowment for the Arts Fellow, and Guggenheim Fellow. Her book Thomas and Beulah won the Pulitzer Prize in Poetry in 1987. She was honored with the Library of Virginia's Lifetime Achievement Award in 2008, and she received the Fulbright Lifetime Achievement Medal in 2009. She is the only poet to have received both the National Humanities Medal (in 1996) and the National Medal of Arts (in 2012). She has degrees from Miami University in Ohio and the University of Iowa, and she has received more than twenty honorary degrees.

Ms. Dove will be presented by the dean of Emory College of Arts and Sciences Robin Forman.

Writing at the Intersection of Literature and Philosophy

Timothy Michael Acker

Biological and Biomedical Sciences,
Dennis Liotta, Adviser
Dissertation: Structural Determinants of Activity, Mechanism and Structure Activity
Relationships of Novel GluN2C/D Subunit
Selective Antagonists of the N-methyl-D-
Aspartate Receptor

Richard Manly Adams Jr.****

Religion, Luke Johnson, Adviser
Dissertation: “The Israel of God”:
The Narrative Rhetoric of Paul’s Letter to the Galatians

Hajira Fatima Ahmad***

Biomedical Engineering,
Athanasios Sambanis, Adviser
Dissertation: Cryopreservation Effects on a Pancreatic Substitute Comprised of Beta Cells or Recombinant Myoblasts
Encapsulated in Nonadhesive and Adhesive
Alginate Hydrogels

Noah Milton Alberts-Grill****

Biological and Biomedical Sciences,
Hanjoong Jo, Adviser
Dissertation: Dynamic Immune Cell
Accumulation Corresponds with Vascular
Inflammation during Disturbed Flow-
Induced Atherogenesis in Mouse
Carotid Artery

Igor Albizua

Biological and Biomedical Sciences,
Stephanie Sherman, Adviser
Dissertation: Telomere Length: Implications on the Risk for Chromosome 21
Nondisjunction in Oocytes

Andreea Smaranda Aldea***

Philosophy, David Carr, Adviser
Dissertation: Phantasie and

Dissertation: Prenatal Maternal Depression and the Neural Development of Social Cognition

Chantelle Lindsay Anfuso***

Chemistry, Tianquan Lian, Adviser
Dissertation: Orientation and Vibrational
Dynamics of Rhenium Bipyridyl CO<sub>2</sub>-
Reduction Catalysts on Model Electrode
Surfaces

Neil Robert Anthony

Physics, Keith Berland, Adviser
Dissertation: Advanced Time-Resolved Fluorescence Microscopy Techniques for the Investigation of Peptide Self-Assembly

Ivan Olegovich Antonov

Chemistry, Michael Heaven, Adviser
Dissertation: Spectroscopic Studies of Molecules that Challenge Computational
Chemistry

Alexis Arun Aposporidis****

Mathematics and Computer Science,
Alessandro Veneziani, Adviser
Dissertation: Numerical Analysis of Mixed
Formulations for Bingham Fluids

Santiago Archila

Biological and Biomedical Sciences,
Astrid Prinz, Adviser
Dissertation: Experimental and Computational Evidence for Regulation of Synaptic Conductance via Graded
Homeostasis of Post-Synaptic Chloride
Concentration

Camila Aschner Restrepo

Graduate Institute of the Liberal Arts,
Michael Moon, Adviser
Dissertation: Violent Stages: Excess,
Memory, and Ritual in Contemporary
Theater in Bogota

EMORY COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES ORIGINATED FROM a concern for higher education in a Christian setting on the part of the Georgia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Chartered in 1836 in Oxford, Georgia, the college was named after John Emory (1789–1835), bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1964 the college at Oxford was named Oxford College of Emory University.

Emory College became Emory University by virtue of a charter granted by the Superior Court of DeKalb County on January 25, 1915. Although classes on the Atlanta campus were begun in the schools of law and theology as early as 1916, the college did not move to Atlanta until 1919. The university now includes nine schools, most tracing their origins to years before the chartering of the university itself. These schools are Emory College and Oxford College (1836), the School of Medicine (1854), Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing (1905), Candler School of Theology (1914), the School of Law (1916), Roberto C. Goizueta Business School (1919), the James T. Laney School of Graduate Studies (1919), and Rollins School of Public Health (1990).

The intent of the founders is perpetuated by the university's vision statement: A destination university internationally recognized as an inquiry-driven, ethically engaged, and diverse community, whose members work collaboratively for positive transformation in the world through courageous leadership in teaching, research, scholarship, health care, and social action.

A SHORT HISTORY ON COMMENCEMENT AT EMORY

This is Emory's 168th commencement. The exercises witnessed today represent an imposition of medieval academic tradition on an institution that had its roots in the nineteenth-century frontier. The first Emory commencement was held in 1840, four years after Emory College had been chartered and two years after the college's first classes. That first ceremony, however, was without graduating students, as there were no graduates until the following year. Then, as now, sermons and addresses had a central focus in the exercises, though rarely have these addresses been so crucial as in 1849, when all fifteen members of the graduating class were assigned speaking places and spoke for as long as half an hour each.

Early commencement audiences sat for up to four hours in the midsummer heat to listen to the numerous student and faculty orations on such topics as "Our Government Unfavorable to High Attainment in Literature," "Social Equality," and "Modern Refinements." These addresses in the early days were in English, contrary to the practice at many other institutions. As President A. B. Longstreet argued in 1842, speeches in Latin and Greek were "worthy of the name pedantry, and nothing more." In spite of this advice, several later generations of students instructed their audiences in the ancient tongues.

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOMS

Academic dress goes back to the founding of European universities, which were the products of the intellectual revival of the twelfth century. All medieval students were clerks and consequently wore the dress of clergy. This is the academic costume we wear today, with certain changes introduced in the sixteenth century by Protestant reformers. The oldest articles of academic wear were the robe, over which was worn the habit, usually a kind of tunic with short, wide sleeves. The medieval hood was lined with fur or inexpensive skins and could be gathered around the neck or pulled up on the head as a turban. There were four kinds of caps: the round cap, reserved for doctoral dignity; the tena, a round cap with strings tied under the chin, worn by jurists; the square cap; and the Tudor bonnet. At Oxford University in 1565 the square cap became the norm, but the faculties that had become laicized adopted the Tudor bonnet. This is still worn by doctors of law, medicine, and music. It is uncertain when different colors became associated with different degrees.

The basic design of all academic costume in the United States was first established in 1895 and was first used at Emory by the Class of 1902. The bachelor's gown is without ornamentation and has long, pointed, open sleeves. The master's gown has longer sleeves, which are closed at the bottom with openings about midway for the hands. The doctor's gown has full-length lapels of velvet and bell-shaped sleeves with three horizontal velvet bars. Tassels for bachelors and masters are black; tassels of gold thread may be worn by doctors. Gowns and caps are usually black, although Emory and some other schools have specified that their doctors may wear gowns of distinctive colors. Yale's deep blue doctoral gown, Harvard's crimson, Columbia's dark blue, and Emory's blue and gold are a few that may be seen in the procession.

The hood varies for the respective degrees, the doctor's hood being longer and fuller than the others. The field of study can be determined from the velvet facing on the hood according to the following color scheme: white, the arts; gold-yellow, science; purple, law; apricot, nursing; green, medicine; scarlet, theology; salmon, public health; and dark blue, doctors of philosophy.

The hood is lined with silk in the colors of the degree-granting institution. For Emory graduates the lining is blue with a chevron of gold.

The president of Emory University wears a badge of office given to the university in 1965 by the Emory chapter, Gamma of Georgia, of Phi Beta Kappa. Designed by Eric Clements of Birmingham, England, and executed by the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths in London, the solid gold badge is an open teardrop enclosing the raised seal of the university and is suspended on a gold chain.

The chief marshal and deputy marshals lead the academic procession. The faculty marshals and the secretary of the university jointly manage the forming of the procession, the seating of commencement participants, and the planning of other aspects of commencement exercises. Marshals are identified by their unique blue tunics, which are sleeveless and lined with gold.

The Quadrangle stage with blue canopy was named the University Marshals' Stage in honor of the dedication and service provided by Emory's chief marshals throughout history.

The university mace is carried in the procession by the immediate past president of the Student Government Association. Academically the mace is the symbol of a university as a corporate body of scholars possessing its own jurisdiction and its own legally constituted authority. Traditionally the mace is borne in procession immediately before the chief officer of a university and is placed before him or her during formal academic ceremonies.

The mace of Emory University, a gift from D.V.S., an Emory College senior honor society, was designed by Eric Clements and executed in silver and gold by the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths. In the teardrop at the apex of the mace, against a background of oxidized silver, is a freestanding representation in gold of a human skeleton. This is Dooley, the "spirit" of Emory, who traditionally "rises" once each fall and for a week rules campus. Immediately below the skeleton, in an open teardrop, is a gold sphere divided (by stippling) into eight segments. Topping the sphere is a simple cross, symbolizing the relationship of Emory University to the Methodist church. The seal of the university is sculptured in gold within the circular base.

Before each school in the procession, the school's student marshal carries its gonfalon, a banner in the color associated with the respective school's degree: medicine, green; public health, salmon; nursing, apricot; theology, scarlet; law, purple; and business, khaki. The gonfalon of the graduate school is gold representing Emory's gold, and the gonfalons of Emory College and Oxford College represent Emory's blue.

EMORY ALUMNI LEGACY MEDALLION

---

Graduating students who have a parent, grandparent, and/or sibling who is also an Emory graduate are wearing specially commissioned medallions hanging from blue and gold ribbons. The medallions are expressions of the university's gratitude to those families who have chosen to continue the Emory education tradition throughout the generations.

THE COMMENCEMENT SETTING

Spectators on the Quadrangle are seated facing Pitts Theology Library, one of the two oldest buildings on the Atlanta campus. Designed by the distinguished Pittsburgh architect Henry Hornbostel (1867–1961), Pitts Theology Library was the original theology building in 1916. It was renovated in 1975 by architect Paul Rudolph to house the expanded library collection of Candler School of Theology.

Directly behind the spectators are Carlos Hall, the other original campus building, and the expanded Michael C. Carlos Museum. Formerly home to the School of Law, Carlos Hall was renovated in 1986 according to a design by Michael Graves to house the museum and the Department of Art History. The museum is named for the philanthropist who donated most of the cost of the facility. It was designed to maintain the classic symmetry and proportion of the surrounding buildings, which are listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Bowden Hall, east of the museum, was constructed in 1951 in the same style as the original campus buildings. Originally the History Building, it was renamed in 1991 in honor of the late Henry L. Bowden, former chair of the Board of Trustees of Emory University. To the southeast of Bowden Hall is the Center for Library and Information Resources. The center joins the tall, red-tile-crowned Robert W. Woodruff Library and is linked to the Asa Griggs Candler Memorial Library at the east end of the Quadrangle. Candler Library was dedicated in 1926 in honor of the man who donated the land for the campus and who provided the university with strong leadership in its early years.

Next to Pitts Library is the Loula Walker and Ely Reeves Callaway Sr. Memorial Center. Thanks to a generous gift from alumnus Ely R. Callaway Jr. in honor of his parents, this center joins the former Humanities Building with the original Physics Building, which was constructed in 1919.

At the west end of the Quadrangle is the Administration Building (1955), a gift of Charles Howard Candler. Like his father, Asa, Charles chaired the Board of Trustees for many years. Between the Administration Building and Pitts Library sits the more modern White Hall, the main classroom building of Emory College. Above the trees of the north side of the Quadrangle are the curved red roof of the William R. Cannon Chapel—designed by Paul Rudolph and dedicated in 1981—and the towers of Emory University Hospital to the east.
